EXECUTIVE DIPLOMA IN BANKING MANAGEMENT

Globalization has brought about an unprecedented change in the banking sector. There has been considerable growth and development in various components of the banking sector, namely, organization, institutional structure, regulatory framework, policies, procedures and participants. In order to meet the new challenges brought in by these reforms and development, banks are compelled to adopt a market oriented approach. They have to continuously improve and innovate in order to market their products and services.

Course Objective:

To equip the trainees with knowledge and skills that can enable them to perform more effectively in the banking sector and also to create promotional avenues and career options.
