Teacher’s Day

The role of a teacher is one of a guiding light for every child. Teachers not only give us the great gift of knowledge, but they also expand the horizon of our imagination. The great scholar Aristotle has said, “Those who educate children well are more to be honoured than they who produce them; for these only gave them life, those taught the art of living well”. LIBA celebrated Teacher’s day on September 5, 2014. The homely ceremony stirred our emotions. It reminded us of the remarkable work a teacher does in shaping personalities. Brandon Miranda, 1st Year PGDM student, recited a lovely poem of Taylor Mali called, “What do Teachers Make”. Dr. I. Thiagarajan addressed the crowd on the duties and responsibilities of a teacher. He also spoke about his own teachers and how they have shaped him to be who he is today. Achievements and research papers of faculty published in the last calendar year were showcased on the occasion.
