

Dr. B. Aiswarya has specialized in Human Resource Development and Organizational Behavior. She has over 18 years of teaching, research, and administrative experience with some of the leading management institutions in India. She has published more than 50 research papers in national and international refereed journals. She has also organized many conferences, seminars, workshops and faculty development programs. Her areas of interest include Human Resources, Organizational Behavior, and Training and Development. She has also undertaken funded research projects, including those funded by the Department of Science and Technology, Government of India.

Dr. B. Aiswarya is a Science graduate from Bharatidasan University, Tiruchirappalli and a post graduate in Management, from Alagappa Institute of Management Studies, Alagappa University, Karaikudi. After completing M.Phil., from Madurai Kamaraj University, she pursued her doctoral studies with Sathyabama University, Chennai, in the area of Human Resources and obtained Ph.D. during 2012. She has also qualified the UGC – NET conducted by University Grants Commission during the year 2004. She is registered guide with the University of Madras. She is currently guiding three students for the doctoral studies. She is also a doctoral committee member for several universities and also a journal committee member and reviewer for various leading national journals.