Prof. P.C. Lakshmi Narayanan, Dean-Academics, LIBA, extended a warm welcome to the gathering. He presented the Minutes of the Meeting from the previous year and gave an overview of the activities undertaken by the Anti-Ragging Committee:

1. Institutional measures to curb ragging menace:

- The details of the Nodal Officer of the Anti-Ragging Committee are updated on the website.
- Posters related to anti-ragging concepts have been prominently displayed in various areas such as Admissions, Library, Canteen, Hostels, etc.
- A workshop on the Eradication of Ragging has been conducted for LIBA students.
- 'Guardian Angel' system: The 'Guardian Angel' system at LIBA was established to support students in navigating social strains and stresses during their learning and formative journey. Assigned Guardian Angels serve as protectors and mentors, ensuring a sense of sacredness in safeguarding students from hindrances to personal and intellectual growth. The primary focus is on academic development, with any personal issues directed to Faculty Mentors. Second-year students act as Guardian Angels for first-year students, contributing to a controlled and nurturing campus environment, effectively preventing ragging incidents.

2. Online Anti-Ragging Affidavits – Institutional Status

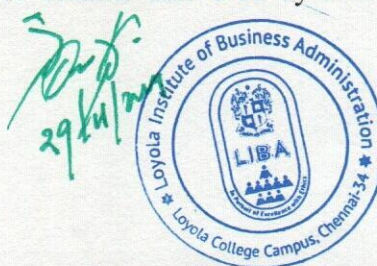

- Prof. P.C. Lakshmi Narayanan presented the status of Online Anti-Ragging Affidavits, which is mandatory for each student to submit as per AICTE regulations. All the students of F23 and F24 batches have completed the submission of online Anti-Ragging affidavits.

3. Any other matter

- Prof. P.C. Lakshmi Narayanan stated that there have been no reported incidents to date. Student representatives confirmed the absence of ragging issues on campus, underscoring LIBA's comprehensive measures to prevent such incidents.
- Prof. P. Chandiran, Associate Dean of PGDM Weekend and Executive Diploma Programmes also confirmed that no reported incidents till date among the Weekend batch of students.

4. Vote of Thanks

- The meeting concluded with a Vote of Thanks delivered by Prof. P.C. Lakshmi Narayanan.
