b) Organizational chart & processes:

- Nature and Extent of Involvement of faculty and students in academic affairs/improvements:

LIBA has a process of reviewing and revising the curriculum once every two years. For each such exercise, a curriculum revision committee is constituted comprising representative members from each of the major domain areas / specializations. In turn, each member works with the faculty group of each domain area, and all courses are thoroughly reviewed. New courses may be added, and redundancies may be eliminated through this process.

Apart from the above curriculum revision exercise, faculty are free to develop and/or offer new elective courses for second-year students. All the faculty members also have the autonomy to constantly work on making improvements or innovations to their course content, material, or pedagogy.

The involvement of students in academic programs and their growth is primarily through an anonymous, formal feedback system, whereby they may offer constructive suggestions for any improvements they feel are needed in any course. They are also welcome to meet the Dean or any of the faculty to offer suggestions for any new courses or academic programmes that they believe will be of use to them. If the Dean and/or faculty are convinced, these suggestions will be incorporated with the approval of the Academic Advisory Council.

- Norms and procedure for democratic good governance:

Loyola Institute of Business Administration (LIBA) is a premier B-school, established in 1979 inside the Loyola College campus, to form leaders who would excel with ethics both in life and work and make a difference in society. It is a Jesuit business school, run by Society of Jesus, popularly known as Jesuits, globally renowned for their outstanding contribution to education from the year 1540. LIBA is one of seventy-five Jesuit higher education institutions in India, to mention a few, St Xavier's College, Mumbai, St Xavier's College, Kolkata, St. Joseph's University, Bengaluru, XLRI, Jamshedpur and XIM University, Bhubaneswar.

LIBA stands for excellence with ethics which are the key characteristics of Jesuit business education. Excellence (Magis) rooted in ethics is seen in LIBA as competence. LIBA believes that what should motivate students at the deepest level should be what we might call “hungers” or “desires” that drive and inspire their idealism and their sense of hope. LIBA guides the students at every level to see business leadership as an opportunity for service to others, especially the marginalized, and for the common good. LIBA strives to equip them with the skills to survive in today's volatile economy, but they also need to yearn for integral human development – the development of the person as a whole, what we call care for the individual person (Cura Personalis). In this VUCA world, LIBA helps the students develop some key essential competencies for a new kind of leadership which views uncertainty and ambiguity as opportunities and relies on innovative learning skills, effective use of technology, fluent communication and team work as important skills for bringing about a positive change. LIBA's Teaching-Learning-Assessment (TLA) is innovative and formative as it moved away from conventional exams but more of assessments of learning based on one's core competencies and understanding application of ideas to solve the problems of the real world, experiential learning with a clear emphasis on Outcome Based Education (OBE).

LIBA primarily offers three programmes - Two Year PGDM Full-Time, Two Year PGDM Weekend, Two Year PGDM Online - approved by AICTE, and Ph.D programme affiliated to the University of Madras - and more than thirty, One Year Executive Diploma and Certificate programmes. The Management Development Centre (MDC) in LIBA offers various customized programmes, short-term and long-term, to companies and business enterprises with a focus on upskilling leadership competencies. Prof. C.K. Prahalad Centre for Emerging India (CKPC) of LIBA offers training and courses skilling the rural youth and women to help them become entrepreneurs. LIBA is ranked high as one of the top ten business schools and is accredited by NBA.

Governance through Vision

To be a premier management school focusing on excellence with ethics.

Governance framework: Our vision drives our activities. It is embedded in the entire process from admission to placement of the students. It is also visible in Faculty experiences, administration and outreach activities of the institute. The need to align with this in spirit is disseminated through handbooks, public displays and on the website. The vision is also reflected in the curriculum with every subject addressing and benchmarking ethical practices. Faculty colloquiums and debates address ethical issues to create greater sensitivity among all stakeholders at LIBA.

Governance through Mission

LIBA is a Jesuit institution committed to working with relentless desire to excel (Magis) with its roots in ethics. LIBA aims to cultivate men and women who are committed to national development by preparing world class leaders who are professionally competent, intellectually sharp, ethically sensitive, reaching out to the weak and the less privileged and caring for the well-being of our planet

Governance framework: The mission is reflected in the governance in the following ways:

- Centers of Excellence that cater to thought leadership and capacity / competency building among corporates and students;
- Centre for Ethics specifically devoted to enriching the ethical culture through participation in debates, conferences and research;
- Student participation in clubs to foster leadership that is empathetic and sustainable in its perspectives;
- Holistic world-class leaders nurtured through adequate emphasis in curricular activities.
- Corporates honored with Mother Teresa Award, for corporate ethics and outstanding corporate social responsibility with a corporate image that is untainted by any questionable practices.
- There is also an Advisory Board to guide and help with the functioning of Prof C.K. Prahalad Centre for Emerging India (CKPC). This centre fosters a spirit of inclusiveness in identifying and empowering communities at the BOP. These committees and advisory boards have renowned corporate leaders as members, and they provide the strategic direction to LIBA's programmes and activities.
- The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) works on benchmarking, sustaining and improving best practices in teaching, research and consulting.
- Enhancing good governance in public and private sectors and leveraging it with State Governments and Business Enterprises, medium or large is ensured. Dr. Ajit Singhvi has donated a large sum to promote 'Good Governance' at LIBA. This initiative will be taken care of by the Centre for Business Ethics and Corporate Governance (CBEG) at LIBA.

Board of Governors for Academic Excellence

LIBA has a Board of Governors, which consists of 20 members. Apart from the Jesuits and industry stalwarts, the members include executives, local authorities and eminent academicians. The members are actively involved in the growth and functioning of the institution. The Dean of Academics, and Administration are members and represent the faculty. The Governing Council meets once a year. The Governing Council passes the auditor's accounts, approves policies, ratifies appointments and salaries and along with this, new proposals for infrastructure or new programmes are also approved. Besides this, the Annual Report of the institution that consists of details about admissions, placements, finance, department reports and other important undertakings is presented.

The Academic Advisory Council is responsible for the evaluation of the academic performance of students. It consists of leading academicians and corporate representatives who provide advice on how to continuously improve the overall academic experience for students at LIBA. They give vital inputs, which help in keeping the curriculum in tune with the changing market trends. The Faculty Council meets at least twice in a Trimester to update themselves about the program. The Faculty Council also deliberates on course revisions periodically.

- LIBA is transitioning towards the AACSB's framework for academic excellence.
- Through its framework of Assurance of Learning Goals, LIBA now will have an educational culture that is more responsive and responsible to learning styles and dispositions of the student community.
- Greater industry interface in teaching, research and student projects and internships will enhance the employability and relevance of the management education at LIBA.
- Industry professionals audit and advise the faculty on the upgradation of the course, assessment procedures and placement potential.
- The governing council sets the pace and direction of new courses, technology and teaching processes after serious deliberations.

Policies and Governance

LIBA has a Faculty Policy, Staff Policy and Student Policy. There are also policies on Incubation Centre, Research, Finance, IT, Library, Admissions, Placements, International Collaboration and Management Development Centre (MDC).

- The Faculty Policy informs the faculty on the academic, research and institution building initiatives
- Policies in all other areas are structured to allow a seamless flow of activities, catering to the philosophy of excellence in operations.
- Research policies generally follow the values of inclusiveness and integrity in the allocation of research grant.
- International collaboration seeks to bring in greater diversity in the student population, inter-university collaboration for research and faculty sharing in line with fostering excellence;
- The Management Development Centre networks and creates a market for new programmes that add value to resources in the corporate world.

Leadership and Governance

- Director: The Head of the Institution is the final deciding authority in all matters concerning governance and administration of the Institute, and overall well-being of the Institution.
- Associate Director: The Head of administrative and financial activities of the Institution in consultation with the Director.
- Administrator: Ensures smooth implementation and delegation of the administrative activities of the Institution.

- Dean-Academics: Ensures all academic activities and proactive response to the learning and formation and research eco-system of the Institution.
- Associate Dean - Weekend and Diploma Programmes: Ensures seamless functioning of PGDM Weekend and Executive Diploma Programmes in consultation with the Director and the Dean.
- Associate Dean - Students Relations: Facilitates the participation of students in academic and co-academic activities to ensure a holistic development of their personality.
- Assistant Dean - Students Attendance and Discipline: Ensures effective implementation of student policies, rules and regulations.
- Area Chairs: For the Marketing, HR, Finance, Analytics, Operations and General Management Domains to ensure that course curriculum is in synchronization with market and general societal goals and align with the vision of the Institute.
- Chairs of Centers of Excellence: Ensures that centers contribute to knowledge generation, dissemination and research to enhance best practices which are sustainable.

The overall governance policies therefore aim at fostering an eco-system of excellence with ethics, through appropriate discussion, informed judgements, policy decisions, administrative and leadership responsibilities.

- Student feedback on institutional governance/faculty performance:

LIBA has a formal feedback mechanism for collecting feedback from the students about each course and the faculty handling the course, at the end of every academic term. This is done through our Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) system and the feedback thus collected is anonymous. The collated inputs for each course are stored in our records and shared with the respective faculty.

To give feedback on all other aspects of institutional administration, there is a Student Activities Council, which acts as the spokesperson for the students to represent any matter to the management.

A 360-degree Performance Appraisal method consisting of feedback from Self, Peers, Manager, and Students to review and ensure continuous and on-going self-development of Faculty, Staff, Research Associates and Teaching Assistants.

Individual students can also give feedback on any issue to their faculty mentors and are also free to approach any other member of the faculty or the management to do so.

F.No. 33-323/2021-NBA

Date: 08. 02.2024

To,
The Director
Loyola Institute of Business Administration,
Loyola College Campus, Nungambakkam,
Chennai- 600 034, Tamil Nadu

Subject: Accreditation status of Management program applied by Loyola Institute of Business Administration, Loyola College Campus, Nungambakkam, Chennai- 600 034, Tamil Nadu.

Sir,

This has reference to your Application ID No. 8106-26/05/2023 seeking accreditation by National Board of Accreditation to the Management program applied by Loyola Institute of Business Administration, Loyola College Campus, Nungambakkam, Chennai- 600 034, Tamil Nadu.

2. An Expert Team conducted onsite evaluation of the program from 22nd to 24th December, 2023. The report submitted by the Expert Team was considered by the concerned Committees constituted for the purpose in NBA. The Competent Authority in NBA has approved the following accreditation status to the program as given in the table below:

S. No.	Name of the Program (PG)	Basis of Evaluation	Accreditation Status	Period of validity	Remarks
(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)	(5)	(6)
1.	Post Graduate Diploma in Management	July, 2017 Document	Accredited	Academic Years 2023-2024 to 2025-2026 i.e. up to 30-06-2026	Accreditation status granted is valid for the period indicated in Col.5 or till the program has the approval of the Competent Authority, whichever is earlier.

3. It may be noted that only students who graduate during the validity period of accreditation, will be deemed to have graduated with an NBA accredited degree.

4. The accreditation status awarded to the program as indicated in the above table does not imply that the accreditation has been granted to Loyola Institute of Business Administration, Loyola College Campus, Nungambakkam, Chennai- 600 034, Tamil Nadu as a whole. As such, the Institution should nowhere along with its name including on its letter head etc. write that it is accredited by NBA because it is program accreditation and not Institution accreditation. If such an instance comes to NBA's notice, this will be viewed seriously. Complete name of the program(s) accredited, level of program(s) and the period of validity of accreditation, as well as the date from which the accreditation is effective should be mentioned unambiguously whenever and wherever it is required to indicate the status of accreditation by NBA.

a) Scholarship offered by the institute:

Jesuit Empowerment Scholarship:

In the context of existing inequalities, injustices and dehumanizing poverty in contemporary society, the Jesuits are committed to challenge and change the oppressive constructs. LIBA works towards the integral liberation of man in collaboration with Christians of different denominations, people of other religions and secular movements working with a similar vision.

LIBA, as a Jesuit educational institution, shapes students into agents of social change preparing them for concerted social action and thus paving the way to mass movement which will bring about the desired liberation. In our admission and scholarship policies, we actualize the preferential option for the poor by giving a privileged place to the weak who are poor economically and academically and form them as men and women for others, stamped with the Ignatian hallmark of excellence and re-orienting themselves in order to respond to the crying needs of today's society.

b) Criteria for fee waivers/scholarships:

- Scholarships are awarded by the Institute to students on merit-cum-means basis.
- LIBA also has tie-ups with corporates such as Bharti Foundations, Hyundai Motors India Limited, Palaniswamy Trust etc. who offer scholarships to eligible students.

i) Teaching learning process:

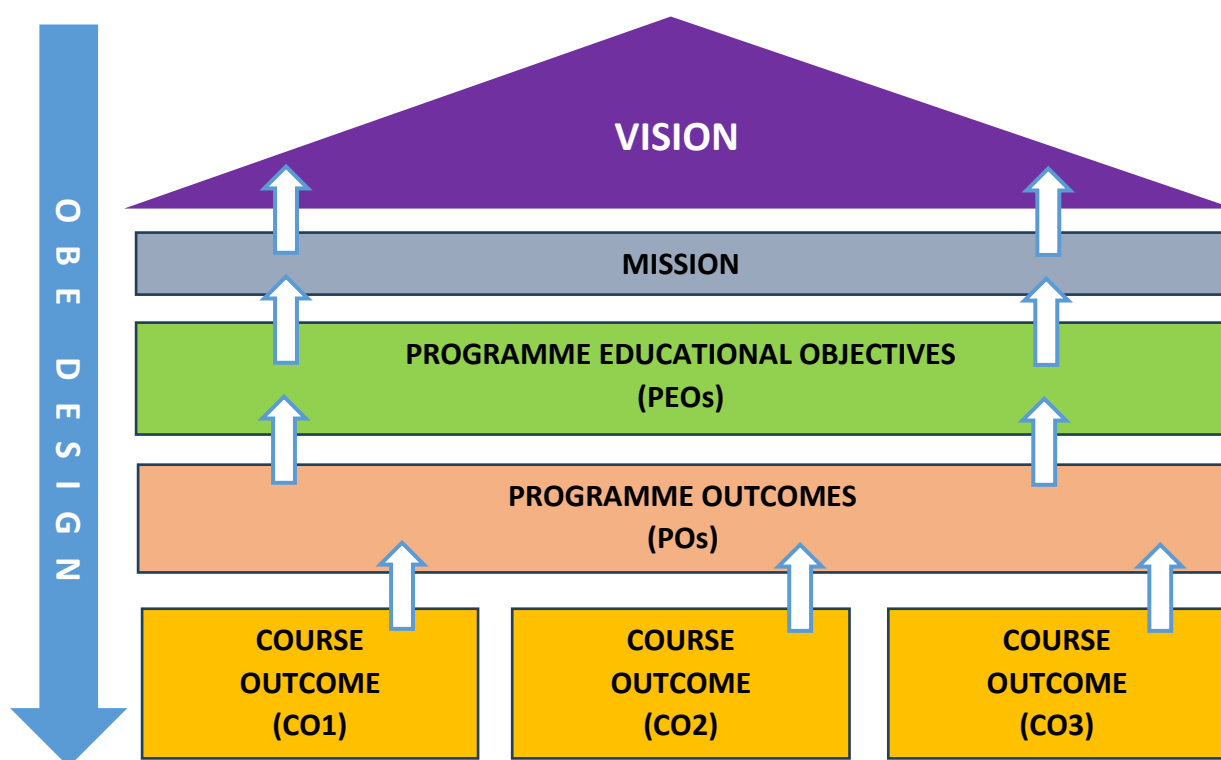

The Teaching-Learning Process (TLA) at LIBA is designed to focus on achieving clearly defined and measurable learning outcomes, ensuring that students acquire the necessary knowledge, skills, and attitudes. The approach centers around aligning teaching methods and assessment strategies with the desired course and program outcomes. At LIBA, we follow Outcome Based Education (OBE) in our TLA, ensuring that all teaching and learning activities are specifically tailored to meet the defined learning outcomes. This approach enhances the overall educational experience and ensures that students are well-prepared to apply their learning in real-world contexts.

Components of TLA

There are three critical components to this definition:

- Learning is a process, not a product. This process takes place in the mind. We infer that it has occurred from students' products or performances.
- Learning involves change in knowledge, beliefs, behaviour, or attitudes. This change unfolds over time; it has a lasting impact on how students feel, think and act.
- Learning is not something done to students, but rather something students themselves do. It is the direct result of how students interpret and respond to their experiences—conscious and unconscious, past and present.

Process Involved in Outcome Based Education (OBE):

TLA Format

- a) Course Outline: Give a brief background with significance of the course, explaining relevance in relation to outcomes of learning. Map the course to the broad area of management / specialisation linking it with other core courses.
- b) Course Objectives: There must be at least a minimum of three objectives and a maximum five. Course objectives specify a behaviour, skill, or action that a student can demonstrate if they have achieved mastery of the objective. They must be measurable by some sort of assessment that finally achieves Bloom's Taxonomy - Remembering, Understanding, Applying, Analyzing, Evaluating, and Creating and range from lower order thinking skills to higher order thinking skills. Course objectives form the foundation of the class. Everything in the course should work together to ensure students master the course objectives.
- c) Course Outcomes: COs are the statements of knowledge/ skills/ abilities that students are expected to know, understand and perform as a result from their learning experiences in each course. In order to graduate from a programme, students must pass a significant number of required courses (subjects) with at least a minimal proficiency level (often in the form of marks or grades), as set forth by the affiliating university. Usually, a university gives a syllabus that the institution must adhere to. The syllabus specifies the teaching strategy and content for each course. Course Outcomes (COs) are the measurable parameters which evaluate the student performance for each course that the student undertakes in every semester. COs are also referred to as Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs).

d) Mapping for the Courses:

COs	PO1	PO2	PO3	PO4	PO5	PO6
CO2
CO3
CO4
CO5

e) Guidelines:

- COs should aim to develop higher order skills in each Domain of Learning.
- Typically 5 COs are identified per Course.
- The CO statements are defined by considering the course content covered in each module of a course. On average, a typical CO is expected to take between 7-10 lessons in a 40 lesson course.
- Attainment of each CO should lead to attainment of one or more POs.

f) Course Content:

- i) Course content in terms of Modules (preferable) along with a brief description of topics that will be covered in each module is listed.
- ii) Books/ references are to given in detail module-wise.

- iii) All Teaching-Learning aspects such as Discussions, Case studies, Guest lectures (at least 3 guest lectures to be planned for each course involving Visiting Faculty / Alumni) to be given in detail -module wise
- iv) Details of videos or any other material that are intended to be used is listed.

g) Pedagogical Strategies

A description of pedagogy proposed to be used for each Module (like lecture, tutorial, practical, case study, class test, presentation etc.) is given along with Teaching-Learning Plan (TLP). TLP specifies the number of hours / sessions that will be allotted for each module along with specifics that are intended to be covered. Classroom lectures are kept to a minimum.

Each Module should broadly cover the following elements:

- a) Basic concepts
- b) Definitions
- c) Key Authors, Concepts & Theories
- d) Application of the knowledge to real time industry and organisation
- e) Frameworks and Tools

Formative Assessment (FA) - 70 Marks

- I. It is a continuous assessment of learning. It could be done after every session or after every module/theme; it could be also after a week of sessions. It should be clearly linked to AoL which was set for the session(s) and should be mapped to the COs and POs.
- II. Formative assessment must provide a period of reflection and assimilation of the learning that could be done using different methods of examination.
- III. This could be written / oral / group discussion / quiz / role plays / games / experiments in real world
- IV. A student should score at least 55 percent in the Formative assessments to be eligible to move to Summative Assessment

Summative Assessment (SA) - 30 Marks:

- I. SA assesses the learning by keeping in mind Course Outcomes and all the Assurances of Learning.
- II. SA could start after 70 per cent of sessions are completed as there are no formal examination days.
- III. Faculty / Area Chairs form a panel of faculty for conducting SA. The panel of assessors could include faculty from other institutions, industry experts and alumni alongside the internal faculty. The latter two – industry and alumni – are important to assess learning.
- IV. SA focuses on comprehensive learning of basic concepts, theories, models, frameworks, and how the concepts are applied in real time situations.

- V. All the students should sit for a written test of basic concepts for 30 marks and the rest of the components for 70 marks. Based on each student's competence, this could be Group discussions, Project Presentations, games etc.
- VI. A final personal interview is conducted to measure the students' comprehensive learning and its impact on their personal and professional lives.

Assessment Structure

Levels: a) Individual b) Group

Areas: Classroom, Field immersion, Games/simulation, Ways of experimenting

- I. Basic test on knowledge of Concepts/theories/models/frameworks of subjects
- II. Group discussions (on cases) that assess skills of teamwork, creative thinking, critical thinking, argument, articulations, ethical conduct, and leadership
- III. Creative and innovative presentations that assess communication skills
- IV. Live Projects that assess application of concepts to real time situations in which creative, analytical, and critical thinking skills are seen as developed by a student.

n) Best Practices:

LIBA stands for Excellence with Ethics, which are the hallmarks of Jesuit business education and all its programmes and activities, embody these two elements. LIBA earnestly strives to inculcate in students the values of excellence, justice, honesty and service to the society. LIBA has designed a Personal Growth Lab (PGL) in which students receive personal guidance to become aware of their deficiencies and make themselves positive in their character.

a) Personal Growth Lab

Personal Growth Lab is a unique programme in the process of formation of students of LIBA. This year for the F25 batch was mentored by Fr. C. Joe Arun, SJ, Director of LIBA, along with the dedicated faculty team, was a deeply transformative experience for students. The main focus was on discovering and uncovering the original self to lead a life of authenticity. That was followed by healing the inner child, and responding to the cry of the inner child. The inner and intensive journey culminated in reflections on cultivating a wise heart, falling forward, and embracing disciplinary consistency through “The Way” – the Personal Growth Plan. Towards the end, Fr Joe Arun SJ had a conversation with students to recognise graces they received. Students in the manifestation shared the transformative experiences that they had during the sessions.
